

Mini Shelters

Shelter is one of the big three things needed for survival; the others are water and food. It isn't just humans that need these things, animals need them too, so your challenge is to help us build a village of mini shelters for animals such as birds, voles, and hedgehogs. Below is a picture of a little village of mini shelters for birds such as a robin.

There are many different ways to build shelters using various materials. You have the A frame, a lean to, and a tipi shelter:

Have a go at making your own shelters, either in a village or alone, for voles, mice, toads, birds - or perhaps fairies!

We can't wait to see what everyone comes up with, please share with us on social media.
